Your Next Steps

How do you know if you have a Twin Flame?

The simple answer is that if you have the desire in your heart for your one true love, it's because you have a Twin Flame.

If you're reading these words and you feel even the slightest calling to find your person, you have a Twin Flame. Everyone is created with a Twin Flame, and you can confirm this for yourself by simply asking yourself if you desire a love that goes beyond what we've been taught as a culture, to a love created especially for you.

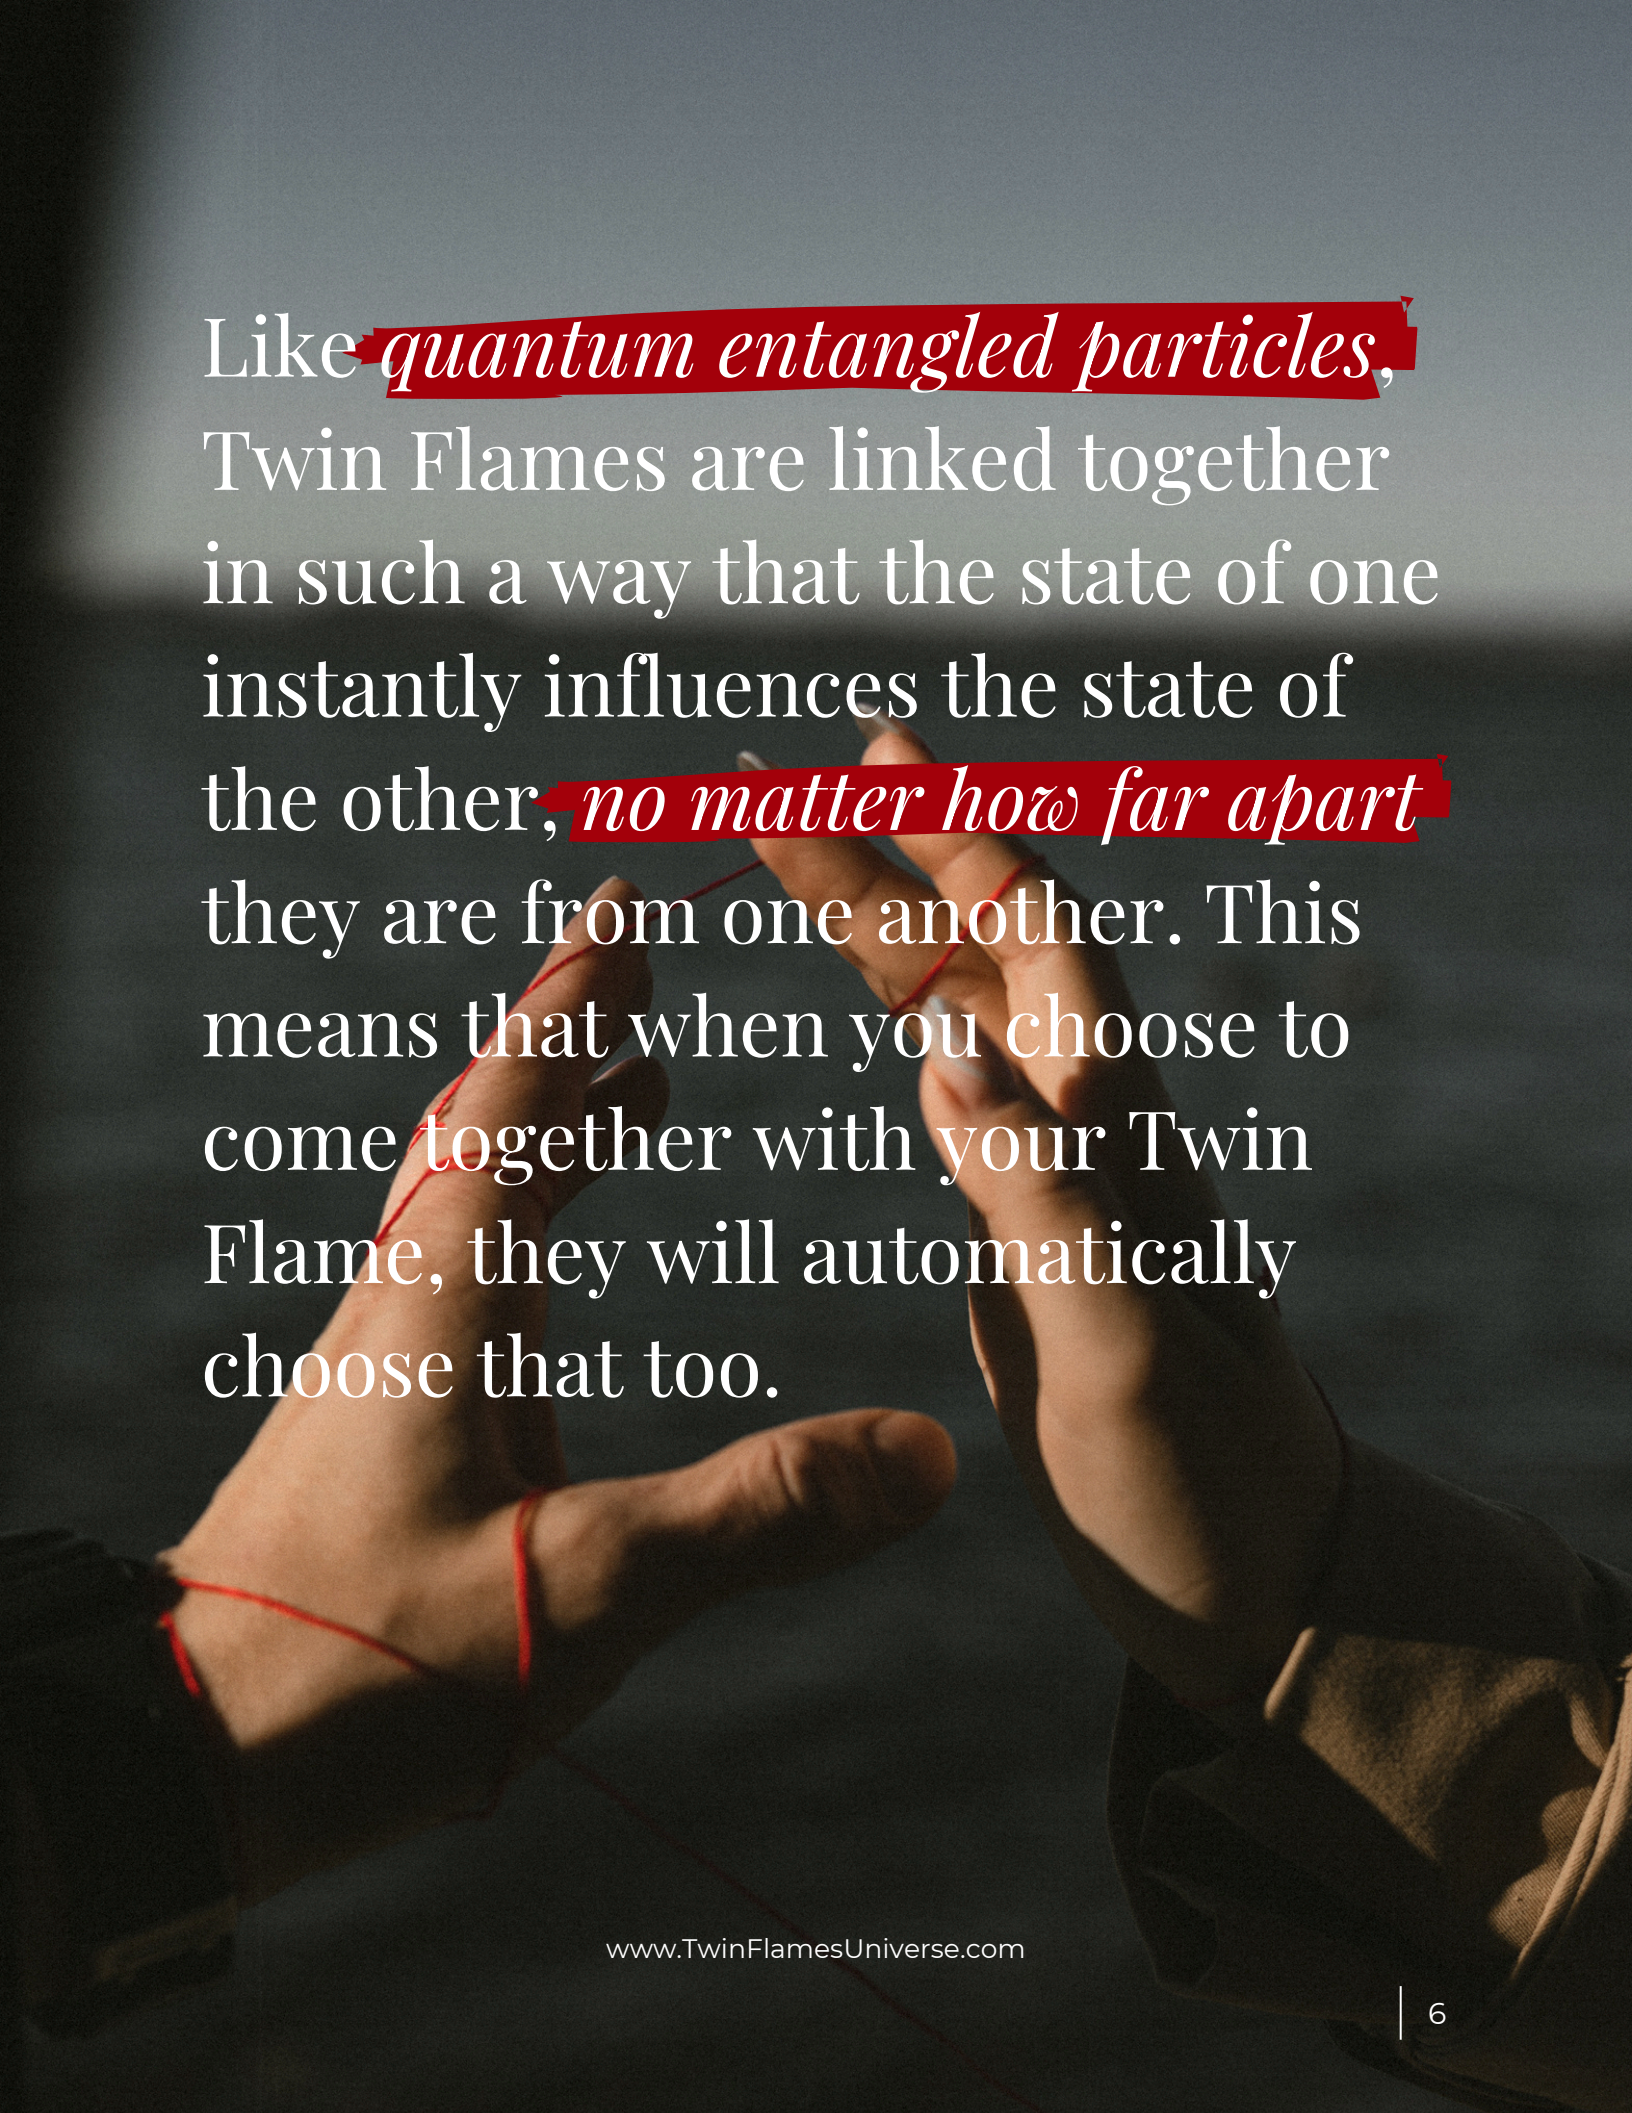

How do you know if you have a Twin Flame?

We can look back throughout history and see Twin Flame love written into the fabric of humanity, from Romeo and Juliet and Adam and Eve, to nearly all the original Disney movies.

Twin Flame love is seen in our culture throughout the ages. In more recent history, we see it when Elizabeth Bennet and Mr. Darcy in Pride and Prejudice overcome society's challenges and their own shadows. Mr. Darcy's ego or pride and Elizabeth's judgments or prejudice eventually led to their happily ever after together. Or when Taylor Swift sings about the "Twin Flame bruise" in All Too Well. We even see Machine Gun Kelly and Megan Fox sharing publicly that they believe they are Twin Flames.

The concept of Twin Flames is becoming more and more well-known, and for good reason. Twin Flame love is subtly etched into the hearts of all those who venture to look within. The pull you feel for true love is not your imagination, and it's not just for fairy tales and movies. It's not some crazy connection that celebrities and authors have a mysterious hold on, either. It's your heart's natural design guiding you to your perfect match. In fact, everyone who has the desire for love has a Twin Flame, because in the way the Universe is designed, you can't want something that doesn't exist for you.

The background is a dark, out-of-focus grey. The text is overlaid on the image in a white serif font, with certain phrases highlighted in red.

Like quantum entangled particles,
Twin Flames are linked together in such a way that the state of one instantly influences the state of the other, no matter how far apart they are from one another. This means that when you choose to come together with your Twin Flame, they will automatically choose that too.

How do you know if you have a Twin Flame?

We see this very clearly in The Notebook by Nicholas Sparks, where the character Noah never gives up on his true love, Allie. After writing her one letter a day for a year, he then spends years building the house he once promised her. This unwavering commitment eventually draws her back to him, and they reunite in the choice he made for Union.

While fiction, Noah and Allie's story is based on the universal truth of Twin Flame love. It is not a childish dream to believe there is someone out there for you, but rather a logical process of conscious choice that draws you to each other. Just like those quantum entangled particles, when you make a choice to align with this love, your Twin Flame will naturally accompany you with the same choice. While this connection may seem like a romantic ideal, it reflects the deeper role that intimate relationships play in our lives.

There's a reason society places so much emphasis on romance. It's because romantic relationships are the foundation for a healthy and harmonious life, when it's with the right person. Enter your Twin Flame. And the truth is, everyone has one. That longing you feel for your true love is proof of the connection that already exists for you. Your heart knows this, or you wouldn't be here in the first place. You have a Twin Flame, and if you keep reading, we will help you attract this love for yourself.

Twin Flames vs. Soulmates

Many people believe they are searching for their soul mate when they are seeking a true love connection. The term “soul mate” is commonly used throughout pop culture and the media, with the understanding that finding your soul mate is the “ultimate” in love and romance. However, this is just a misperception of what a soul mate really is, and at the end of the day, those seeking soul-level love are really looking for their Twin Flame.

Soul mates are meant to come into your life for a season, teach you some lessons, and help you go deeper into love. Meeting a soul mate can feel like meeting an old friend; there is a warm recognition and resonance with them. But as you go deeper into the relationship, you will realize they are not the person specifically designed for you to be romantic with in the long term. Soul mates are not always romantic relationships either. They can be anyone, a friend, parent, sibling, really anyone you feel close to.

Over the years, soul mates have been the placeholder for the ultimate love that humanity is really craving. This is because soul mate love is much less triggering and overall more transactional compared to the love that is experienced with your Twin Flame.

Twin Flames vs. Soulmates

With a soul mate, they may grow with you for a little while and push you to be your best self if you're lucky, but in reality, there will come a limit to the growth you can experience together. And ultimately, they won't reflect to you all the deepest, most inner parts of you. This is something only your Twin Flame can do for you, which is why when you heal what your Twin Flame triggers within you, you will experience the highest state of unconditional love.

Soul mates may be with you for a season of life, or even a lifetime, but the relationship will always come to pass, leaving you longing for the love of your Twin Flame. This is because Twin Flame Union is a sacred, divine connection that brings about the deepest love possible. When Twin Flames heal separation and unite, every experience is amplified, creating an environment for your ultimate growth.

The love you have for your Twin Flame can simply not be experienced with a soul mate because at the end of the day, your soulmate wasn't created specifically for you. Your soul mates are created to be your friends, family members, and even pets, you can have countless soul mates throughout your time on Earth. While you will only ever have one Twin Flame, who was created perfectly for you to live together in love.

You will always outgrow a soul mate, or find yourself going in different directions in life, but with your Twin Flame, you always grow together. You can literally never outgrow your Twin Flame, and you will find that you only ever come closer, grow more intimate, and experience more love together.

We've created a cheat sheet so you can easily see and understand the main differences between a soulmate and a Twin Flame.

Twin Flames Signs

Now that you know you have a Twin Flame, and you understand the difference between a Twin Flame and a soul mate, let's dive into the topic of Twin Flame signs.

The question that comes up for most people at this stage - when they've learned about Twin Flames and are considering the possibility of coming together with theirs - is this:

“How do I know if someone is actually my Twin Flame?”

Rest assured, there is a clear process to identify whether someone is your true Twin Flame, and there are specific signs that only a Twin Flame will show. You can use these as reference points along your journey to gain clarity about whether you've found the one.

The 9 Signs you will only experience with your Twin Flame:

- 1 They feel more familiar than anyone else you've ever met, even people you've known your entire life.
- 2 Your Twin Flame loves and adores you above anyone else. Even if years or decades pass and you've parted ways at some point, you still love each other from the bottom of your hearts.
- 3 They feel like you. You're always vibing on the same wavelength, and it feels as though your hearts beat in the same rhythm.
- 4 Whatever you desire to achieve or create in your life, your Twin Flame wants the very same things. Your life visions are a perfect match.
- 5 Your Twin Flame wants the same things from life as you do. They desire similar experiences and are here to learn the same lessons.
- 6 Your lifestyle choices naturally fit together with ease and effortlessness.
- 7 Your Twin Flame shares all the same values as you.
- 8 Your Twin Flame genuinely enjoys spending time with you. You both feel deeply relaxed, comfortable, and authentically yourselves in each other's company.
- 9 Your Twin Flame will always love you. No matter how physically close or far you are, you can always feel their loving presence.

Twin Flame Signs

Beyond these signs, one very clear way to recognize if someone is your Twin Flame is by noticing whether they come closer to you as you heal and love yourself.

While other romantic interests may start to distance themselves, your true Twin Flame will naturally and effortlessly be pulled closer. They literally can't help it because your inner healing work and self-love magnetizes them to you and makes you deeply attractive to them.

This is the secret to finding and attracting your Twin Flame into your life:

It happens solely from this inner place of loving yourself.

Your true Twin Flame will always respond to what is happening within you and move closer as you move closer to yourself through self-love.

Masculine and Feminine Polarities

The irresistible, magnetic attraction between Twin Flames is created by the dynamic between the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine polarity within the Union. Many theories circulate about balancing the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine within oneself, but here's how it actually works in a Twin Flame Union:

In each Union, there is one Twin Flame who is 100% the Divine Masculine polarity at the core, and one Twin Flame who is 100% the Divine Feminine polarity at the core. Which energy you embody never changes, it's the truth of you who are at a soul-level.

When both these energies come together, perfect balance is achieved within the Union, and each of you can fully relax into your individual energy - which feels incredibly relieving.

The Divine Masculine is a giving, entering energy. He expresses himself into the Feminine and desires to express himself into all the places that he places his attention on. There's a focused and efficient feeling with this energy.

The Divine Feminine is a receiving and abundantly overflowing energy. She desires to receive the Masculine and, in doing so, encourages him to give even more. There's a receptive and open feeling to this energy.

Masculine and Feminine Polarities

When the Divine Feminine receives from the Divine Masculine, she overflows back into him and energizes him, which allows him to give even more to her and so the cycle continues. This dynamic creates not only irresistible attraction but also allows you to go endlessly deeper into your love for each other.

These two energies are a beautiful complement to one another and very powerful together. They support, encourage, and uplift each other, helping both of you go deeper into love.

One way to find out if you are the Divine Masculine or Divine Feminine is by asking yourself how you relate to the world. Do you relate through femininity? Or do you relate through masculinity?

You can also reflect on how you like to have sex. Do you enjoy receiving sex (feminine) or do you enjoy giving sex (masculine)? This isn't about what your lovemaking looks like externally, but how you feel and experience it emotionally within yourself.

As a society, we hold many stereotypes about what a Masculine or Feminine should or should not be, look like, or do. The Twin Flame journey helps you release these limiting ideas so you can get to know and express your authentic self as a Divine Masculine or Divine Feminine.

It's not about conforming to stereotypes, nor is it about the physical body you were born in. Many LGBTQ+ people are on the Twin Flame journey with their same-sex or other gender-identified Twin Flame. Masculinity and Femininity are an energy, and within yourself, you are one or the other independently of which body you are born in. You can be a Divine Feminine at the core and be born in a male body, and vice versa.

No matter your experience and whether you are in a heterosexual or LGBTQ+ Twin Flame Union, this journey will help you truly know yourself, learn to unconditionally love and accept yourself, and attract real, lasting love into your life.

Twin Flames and Life Purpose

Your Life Purpose plays a critical role in the journey to attracting your Twin Flame into your life. Together, you share a life purpose that only you two can fulfill. It's not just a relationship about romance and love, but channeling that energy into a higher calling.

This shared mission is not a small thing - it's the very reason your Union exists. Without your purpose, there's no point in being together with your Twin Flame because your love is meant to expand and be expressed.

When we say Life Purpose, we don't mean simply your job or career. We're talking about your mission, your calling, the thing you want to create and give to the world. Your unique gift that only you can give. Your purpose is that thing you are deeply passionate about, the great dream in your heart, and would even do for free. Your job might already be a great way for you to live and share your Life Purpose, but it doesn't stop there.

With your Twin Flame by your side, you can begin to truly fly in all the areas of your life and career where you once felt stuck or unable to move forward.

Twin Flames and Life Purpose

If you feel like you have all these dreams and visions, but you don't know how to make them come true, chances are, you are just missing your Twin Flame. Because in your Union, each of you is one wing. On your own, you can flap around a little, but together, you can soar.

Your Twin Flame will perfectly complement you in the area of Life Purpose and bring many skills and qualities with them that harmonize with yours. They are not a carbon copy of you but your complement, which is why together you can become such a powerhouse. You might or might not do completely different things depending on the level of activity, but when your energies are put together, the magic happens.

If you are reading this and you feel like you have no idea what your Life Purpose might be, that is also okay. That is a natural part of discovering more about yourself as you take the Twin Flame journey.

Your Life Purpose is a journey, not a destination. As you take each step forward in faith, loving yourself, healing, and getting to know yourself on deeper levels, your Life Purpose will naturally reveal itself to you. And when it does, you'll begin to feel that pull, that spark of recognition that tells you: this is what I came here to do, side by side with my Twin Flame.

It's in this space – where your heart's mission meets your Twin Flame's – that your Union truly comes alive.

Write your Twin Flame Love List

Your Love List is something that will help you get clear on who your Twin Flame is. Because your Twin Flame is literally designed to be your ultimate lover, you can identify them using this unique method. It's a tool you can use to narrow down who it is you're really looking for. To start writing your Love List, we invite you to sit down, take a few deep breaths, and drop into your heart. Ask yourself, "What do I desire in my perfect person?"

Write down whatever comes up for you. Maybe you start simple, and begin with the basics. That you desire someone who is kind, supportive, loving, and attentive. As you go deeper and uncover more about what you desire in your person, you may get more specific. You might include material qualities like being good with money and financially stable, having a good work ethic, or being passionate about art or music. Other desires may come to mind, maybe your perfect person has a love for God or the Universe and an active spiritual life. Or maybe they desire to travel, live on a lake with you, and have a family. You may feel in your heart that your perfect person can make you laugh like no one else. Write ALL of this down on your list!

Write your Twin Flame Love List

Don't hold back and get as particular as you want.

You are not creating some imaginary person in your mind by writing this list. What you're actually doing is tapping into who your Twin Flame truly is at their core.

Sure, they may not come to you all perfectly polished and aligned in every area of their life. But your Love List will help you discern whether someone could potentially be your Twin Flame by how well they align with what you've written on your list.

Most of the time, when you meet your true Twin Flame, they'll align with about 80-90% of your Love List, and they'll be willing to grow into the rest alongside you. Remember, your Twin Flame can only meet you where you're at. So another great aspect of your Love List is that it can show you what you have to work on as well.

Don't worry if you and your Twin Flame are not yet embodying everything you've written on your list. There's a lot of fun in growing into it together!

The important thing is that you get to know yourself through this exercise, and get clear on who it is your heart truly desires in a partner. This clarity will naturally support you in aligning with your true Twin Flame.

Write your Twin Flame Love List

So have fun with it. Remember, you can't ask for too much in your perfect person, and keep your Love List somewhere accessible. This way, you can continue to add to it as you get to know more about yourself!

Harmonious Twin Flame Union

If you've heard anything about Twin Flames before this guidebook, you've likely heard that "Twin Flames are toxic" or "being with your Twin Flame is painful." This myth is told by those who have not yet done the inner work to come into harmony with their Twin Flame, or don't truly understand the dynamic, and it couldn't be further from the truth. Harmonious Twin Flame Union is what you're really after when you choose to be with your Twin Flame. Harmonious Union is where you arrive with your Twin Flame after you do the inner work to clear the core places in your connection where you are experiencing upsets with each other. In other words, it's when you use what triggers you as opportunities to heal and come into a place of unconditional love together.

Harmonious Twin Flame Union describes the state of being where you and your Twin Flame have achieved a core state of deep peace within yourselves. In Harmonious Twin Flame Union, you are fully committed to one another and have come to a place together where there is no going back to separation. You have built a solid foundation of inner work beneath you, moved through your deepest and darkest wounds, and come out on the other side of your core blocks.

Those in Harmonious Union recognize that they are one with their Twin Flame. There is no more blaming one another for your triggers, no shoving things under the rug, and a deep understanding that your Twin Flame is, first and foremost, your greatest teacher. This means that when you're in Harmonious Union, you take full responsibility for healing anything that your Twin Flame triggers within you.

Harmonious Union is built on consistent healing work, but once you master it, you will receive the greatest love, joy, peace, and romance you could ever experience on Earth. In the simplest terms, Harmonious Union is happily ever after, and everything that comes next. It's when you and your Twin Flame have matured spiritually and emotionally to a place where you experience more togetherness than separation in your relationship, or, in other words, more love than upset. There's an ever-present feeling of peace, no matter what you are moving through, and a deep knowing that you will get through anything together.

In Harmonious Union, you feel completely safe to be all of yourself, and you feel fully loved, adored, appreciated, and seen by your Twin Flame. You feel a deep connection to yourself as well, which translates into an absolute certainty that you have found your person. There is no questioning your relationship or whether or not you are meant to be together. When you're in Harmonious Union with your Twin Flame, you are only ever shown deeper and deeper layers of your connection.

Harmonious Union is the foundation for building your dream life together, including your life purpose, your family, and all of your desires. There is nothing you can't do when you come into Harmonious Twin Flame Union because you have already cleared your core blocks to love and have learned the main lessons of your Twin Flame journey. From this place, anything is possible, and you will live out your days together only ever growing deeper in love, passion, purpose, romance, peace, and joy.

Journal Prompts

Now that we've established that you have a Twin Flame and can attract them into your life, let's start that process with some reflection on where you're at right now, so you can get to where you want to be. These journal prompts were created to help you understand your inner world, and they will allow you to reflect on how you currently feel about romance and love. Getting clear on how you feel in this area of your life is the first step in transforming your love life into what you desire.

We suggest creating a comfortable space to sit down with yourself and write down whatever comes up on paper. You can enhance this experience by lighting a candle, making yourself some tea, or setting an intention. Make sure to date and save these entries so you can look back on them throughout your journey.

You will be amazed at how your feelings change as you learn to master attracting love.

Journal Prompts

- How do you currently feel about your romantic life?
- What are you afraid of when it comes to love?
- How would it feel if you never chose to take the journey and never manifested true love?
- What would it be worth to you to attract your Twin Flame?
- Where have you settled in love before?
- What would it feel like to be fully loved and accepted exactly as you are?
- How would your life change if you were living it with your true love?

Calling In Your Twin Flame

If you are reading this, you might already have an inkling of who your Twin Flame is. Maybe you've already met them, and they are the very reason you were guided to the topic of Twin Flames in the first place. Or maybe you have no idea who your Twin Flame could be yet, but you can feel that something (or someone) is calling you deeper.

No matter where you are on your journey, this moment right here, right now is the perfect starting point.

Just like everyone else, you have a Twin Flame. You are perfect for each other in every way and designed to find and be with each other.

The key to calling them in is your choice.

Your choice is what sets the direction of your entire life. Think of it like getting into a car and deciding which way to go. If you want to end up in New York, you have to make a conscious choice to drive in that direction. You might not see the whole map yet, but once you make the choice, the road begins to unfold before you.

It's exactly the same with your Twin Flame Union.

If you want to meet your Twin Flame and come into your Union, all it takes to set everything in motion is a single, powerful choice: the choice to call them into your life and decide that you are ready to be with them. That moment of choosing is the spark that activates the entire journey.

Your choice sends a clear signal to the Universe, to your Twin Flame, and to your own soul:

"I am ready. I choose my Twin Flame now."

From that moment on, everything that happens in your life, every healing, every realization, every shift, will begin aligning you closer to them, because your soul has chosen to reunite with one true love.

Affirmations to call in your Twin Flame

“ I choose now to open my heart and invite my Twin Flame into my life. I choose for it to be easy and obvious to recognize them.

I choose now, with my whole heart and soul, to be with my Twin Flame and to have my Harmonious Twin Flame Union. I am ready for our love. I am ready for our purpose. I am ready for Home.”

Every time you repeat these words, feel your energy expand and the magnetic pull between you and your Twin Flame grow stronger.

Your choice is the seed of your Union, and as you set out on your journey with faith, devotion, and commitment, your Union will become inevitable.

This is where your journey begins, and this is where everything changes.

Your Next Steps

You've just taken a powerful step: you've opened your heart, made the choice to call in your Union, and set your Twin Flame journey in motion. From here, it's about taking the next action step and continuing to say "yes" to your journey. Twin Flame love is for you, and we will show you exactly how to attract it for yourself.
